

Cable clips

for an optimized cable routing

- Quick and simple mounting
- High UV – resistance (polyamide material)
- Perfect edge protection
- High impact resistance
- Protects your cables

With the majority of installations, cables are fastened with simple cable ties. These become brittle very quickly, however, particularly in hotter climates, with the result that the cables may then dangle from the profiles already after only two years. This leads to water damage and loosened plugs because the cables are moved by the wind. We offer you cable ducts for the laying of your cables that can be fastened to our profiles quickly and easily. Moreover, our edge protectors protect your plant from damage at the edges.
